

System check: 100% Cleared. 🛑➡️🟢

They said "explain your code and logic," so I did. Now the review board is satisfied, the terminal is clean, and the server is quiet... for approximately five minutes.

I successfully survived the hot seat, which apparently means my reward is a blank canvas and the authorization to start building a new MERN stack web application at a much larger scale.

Where I'm at right now:

- Past Phase: Fully audited, approved, and locked.
- Current Phase: Staring at a blank repository, designing database schemas, planning APIs, and building the foundation for the next MERN stack web application.
- Brain Status: 404 - Sleep Not Found, but the blueprint is ready.

The next project is officially in motion. Time to turn caffeine into scalable logic. 🏗️⚡
